

Jim Wagner (center) is teaching hand-to-hand combat to new army recruits of the Israeli Defense Force (IDF) at the Bahad 8 military base at the Wingate Institute in Netanya, Israel in December 2003. Military service is obligatory for all men and women, and these soldiers are "just kids." However, only three years later some of these very soldiers would fight in the Second Lebanon War in 2006 with Hezbollah paramilitary forces.

